

SOLDIER BONUS "BUCK" AGAIN PASSED TO THE PRESIDENT

Senate Finance Committee Republicans Resort to Same Tactics That House Committee Did—Declare It Would be a Waste of Time to Go Ahead With Measure Which the President Might Disapprove—The So-Called Reclamation Section of the House Bill Has Been Eliminated

Washington, May 2. — The soldiers' bonus problem is to be put up to President Harding again. This was decided today at a meeting of the senate finance committee republicans who agreed tentatively upon details of a measure embodying substantially the house bill plan of bank and government loans on adjusted service certificates. The plan of the original cash bonus proposal.

Senators said they desired to meet the president's view on the newest bonus

Estimates given to the government by Joseph S. McCoy, the government actuary, placed the ultimate cost of the new pension plan at approximately $1,000,000,000 in the first year, $77,000,000 the second year, $2,950,000 and the third year $72,980,000 and the fourth year $72,980,000.

The large sum necessary in 1936 is explained by reason of the fact that the government would make loans on the certificate for the year up to eighty per cent of the amount of the service certificate, plus interest at 4 1/2 per cent. During the first three years loans would be authorized to loan to veterans and their dependents up to 80 per cent of the adjusted service credit.

ing a general attack by him upon the republican administration. He added he believed them despite denials and declared the obtaining of a pardon for Morse was Mr. Daugherty's "greatest achievement." Continuing he said, Mr.

baughberry was a specialist in getting pardons for rich criminals, and added: "I was in the cabinet for a long time, and they put him in the cabinet for what he had accomplished."

Later, when the senator says to the truth. Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, interrupted explaining he had never heard of the man, and that he was about it and was told that the attorney general had received no fee in the Morse case.

It was Mrs. Jaschko who made public the fact that the man had been pardoned before his death in which he declared that his family was "planning to do away with him."

Later Mrs. Mohr visited her husband's cell, taking him a mattress and blanket for his bunk. She also ordered a chicken dinner for him and a glass of beer. She pleaded that he be permitted to wear his own pajamas, but this request was denied.

Senator Watson told Mr. Daugherty was not the counsel for Mr. Mohr, but for the state, which was Mr. Mohr's testimony. This Senator Watson declared, was Mr. Daugherty's only connection with the case.

Senator Watson contended and Senator Caraway denied that, as Mr. Daugherty, then was a private attorney it would have been improper for him to have taken a fee for securing a pardon.

Senator Caraway replied that his views

"I'll say this and only this," Attorney General Daugherty said later with reference to the statements of Senator Cawsey. "I haven't any time here to talk."
